VANDERBILT'S SPOOKS

MISS MINERVA VANDERBILT.

NEW YORK, August 26.—Edward Vanderbilt, whose daughter Minerva says he is so dominated by his second wife Mary S. Pepper, the professional medium, that he is incompetent to manage his own affairs, testified today that he had given her a large share of his fortune. He told of presenting his wife with two houses in the last four months, one as a birthday remembrance, the other as a wedding gift.
The value of both he estimated at $81-500. Yet his annual income, he said, was only $4,000.

Mr. Vanderbilt also expressed belief in the spiritualistic existence of "Bright Eyes," who in the flesh was an Indian girl, but who at the present controls his wife. "Bright Eyes," he said, had brought him messages from his dead wife, to whom he said he was still married in spirit. "Bright Eyes" had even written him letters from Europe, thanking him for fruit and candy and a locket and chain which he had presented her in the person of Mrs. Pepper.

There was as much rivalry among spirits in keeping tabs on things here below, he said, as among business men who compete for trade. Spirits have their wrangles, disagreements, debates and all that. Now and then they fall to fighting, hammering each other in a way that would make the feathers fly, if spirits only wore feathers.

Mr. Vanderbilt's examination took place in Brooklyn before a commission, consisting of Herbert Ketchum, a lawyer; Dr. Henry A. Farbaun, a physician and Hubert G. Taylor, a banker.
Throughout the grilling fire to which he was subjected the witness appeared calm. Asked about his first wife, he said:

"I worshiped her and still worship her in spirit. She died in my arms. I was overwhelmed with grief at the departure of her body, but knew her soul was still with me. It is with me yet. Two souls constitute a mar-

COL. TUCKER WANTS A DIVORCE

SAYS HIS WIFE'S CHARGES AGAINST HIM WERE CRUEL AND INHUMAN TREATMENT.

CHICAGO, August 17.—Lieutenant-Colonel William F. Tucker of the pay corps of the United States army will sue for divorce from his wife, daughter of the late Gen. John A. Logan. Although the court of inquiry removed the bar sinister cast upon Col. Tucker by his wife, it was expected that the woman and not the man would take the initiative to bring about perpetual separation.

Colonel Tucker is said to have contemplated taking drastic action long before now. As yet he has never received an official report of the findings of the court of inquiry. A brief paragraph in the "Army and Navy Journal" is the only message he had received of his vindication.

Speculation has it that "cruel and inhuman treatment on the part of Mrs.
"Dolly" Logan Tucker in bringing charges against her husband of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman in Manila, San Francisco and Chicago," will be the grounds on which the colonel will base his petition.

The estrangement will be aired in the courts of Cook county. As an

SEATTLE'S ATTITUDE TOWARD PLAGUE

THE SOUND CITY NOT MUCH IN FEAR OF CONTAGION FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

SEATTLE, August 20.—Efforts to prevent the infection of Seattle with bubonic plague as a result of the outbreak in San Francisco, will be made by the health board. This was decided at last evening's meeting of this body, and the secretary was authorized to communicate with the United States marine hospital service officers at Port Townsend and San Francisco, and be advised by them about the situation.

The local health board, during a previous plague, asked San Francisco city officers for information, but found it impossible to work satisfactorily with them, but the marine officers worked in harmony with the Seattle board.
For this reason, they will be asked to aid the local officers at this time.

Following the board meeting, the matter of infection by rats was taken up by the board members. Dr. I. M.
Harrison stated that a campaign against rats should not be instituted at present, as the rats are a good barometer of the disease. Should the plague be carried to this city, the rats would first become infected, and would die off by thousands. It would be a warning that the disease was prevalent and a vigorous campaign against its spread could be made.

What methods to exterminate the rats would be adopted is not known, but Dr. Harrison states that there are numerous effective methods, poison being one of the best.

That precautions should be taken by the city against the spread of bubonic plague from San Francisco, is the view of Dr. Frank S. Bourns, of this city, who was commissioner of health of Manila for two years immediately after American occupation, and later on was called back for a short time during the cholera outbreak in 1902.

A feature of his administration was the relentless war waged against rats.
Largely as a result of this he did not have a single case of bubonic plague while he was in charge of the city's health.

"There is certainly danger that rats will bring the plague to Seattle though the extent of the danger is a matter that will have to be determined," says Dr. Bourns. "With the large number of rats that infest the city, the outbreak of plague would be a serious matter."

"In Manila we had a regular rat-killing brigade, using traps and poison.
Every rat killed was cut open and examined, and if evidence of the plague were found on the body we would take careful precaution against plague in the neighborhood in which the animal was found. If it were killed in a house, we would disinfect the house and have all holes stopped up."

"It is a question of whether the best thing to do here would be to start out a war against rats from San Francisco.
If there seems to be much plague there, the city could ascertain where the plague-stricken districts are, if they are close to the wharves, and watch the vessels that come from San Francisco to see that no rats escape. By keeping the vessels off from the docks a little, placing tin guards over the ropes, and drawing the gang-plank when not in use, the probability of rats escaping to the shore is a minimum. They can be killed on board ship by carbon dioxide gas, which is heavier than air, and can be poured down into the hold, where it will sink to the bottom."

"In Manila the board of health would distribute traps and poison to people who used them to kill rats. While not all the rats in a large city can be exterminated, they can be kept down greatly."

"Plague would be apt to make its appearance here among the rats before it could be discovered among human beings. A close watch on the rats will be the surest means of finding out when the bubonic plague gets here. If in the morning rats are found on the streets or around the houses dead with no apparent cause, and it is ascertained that they have not been poisoned, it would be time to look for the plague."

Dr. Grant Calhoun, city health officer, does not seem to treat seriously a danger of plague brought by rats from San Francisco or the Orient. He says that he does not think the city will undertake a crusade against the rodents. "It might be a good thing for the people individually to kill rats, especially along the water front, but I do not see the advisability of the city trying to exterminate them," said Dr.
Calhoun yesterday. "The danger, in my opinion, is not great enough to warrant us in going after them now."

A SHILLING SAVED REPRESENTS

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent. of his earnings. He must spend nine shillings in living expenses for every one saved. Sometimes a few pence properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several times the amount later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Col-costs but little and a bottle of it in the PURSE STOPS SEA BURIAL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Passengers on board the Lloyd liner Princess Irene, which arrived today from Italy, prevented Captain Letten-Peterson from burying at sea the body of Miss Mary Shoyer, a teacher in the Chicago schools by making up a purse for that Miss Shoyer, who had been in Italy for her health, died at sea two days ago. Passengers on the steamship assert that the body was buried at sea unless the sum of $418, to cover the cost of embalming and the coffin, was paid. Miss Shoyer was traveling alone. Friends whom she had made on the voyage succeeded in making up a purse for that amount. Captain Peterson said the amount demanded was only $200. The captain said the charges were fixed by the company and he had no option in the matter.
